ILWACO

The summer beach season is drawing to a close. The Potter last Sunday had almost her limit of passengers and in a few more days the quiet times on the beach will be upon us. While a good many people have visited the beach this season, there has not been the volume of business done by the merchants as in former years. Since the completion of the railroad to Megler and the boats landing there on regular schedule the time for arrival at the different points on the beach has been shortened several hours making it more convenient for the traveling public to reach their destination.

Candidates for the different county offices have been numerous in Ilwaco for the past two weeks. Some of them have been so bold as to post bills and give a talk in the hall aside from what they have already said on the streets. By the time the election rolls round we will all be familiar with the topics of the day; what unfairness has been practiced by some and how they will be remedied by others. For one month at this time of the year promises are promiscuously made; and then for twenty-three months after the election the people wonder why they are not being carried out.

The launch "Teddy Roosevelt," Captain Sigurdson, master, commenced regular trips between Ilwaco, Chinook and Astoria the first of the month. She leaves Astoria at 10:30 a. m. arrives at Ilwaco about 12 m. and leaves Ilwaco for Astoria at 1:30 p. m. She carries both freight and passengers. She will land at the old farmer's dock at the present but we understand that a more suitable and convenient place will be provided in the near future. The people of Ilwaco should give a liberal supply of their patronage to this boat as it means a great deal to all concerned.

James Howerton, who has been confined to his bed for the past five months with an aggravated case of rheumatism returned from the Portland Sanitarium on last Saturday evening on the Potter train and is now at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. H. W. Nott, in this city. Though he has been under medical treatment in Portland for the past two months he returns very little if any improved in health. He was accompanied home by his brother, Nelse Howerton, who has been visiting with him for some time.

Sheriff McDonald, of South Bend, was in town the latter part of the week shaking hands with the boys. He informed us he was not aspiring for honors at the coming election, but was going to try his luck on a farm for awhile. He had just returned from Chinook where he had been investigating some trouble arising out of the arrests of a few soldiers by the deputy sheriff at that place. He exonerated his deputy in his actions.

Barrington Hall
The Steel Coffee

Is just pure Mocha and Java prepared in a new way. The coffee berry is cut up (not ground) by knives of almost razor sharpness into small uniform particles. Thus it is not crushed, as by the old method of grinding, and the little oil cells remain unbroken. The essential oil (food product) cannot evaporate and is preserved indefinitely. This is one reason why a pound of Barrington Hall will make 15 to 20 cups more of full strength coffee than will any coffee ground the old way; why it excels all other coffee in flavor and why it will keep perfectly until used.

But the main thing about Barrington Hall Coffee is that it can be used without ill effect by those who find ordinary coffee injures them, because the yellow tannin-bearing skin and dust (the only injurious properties of coffee) are removed by the "steel-cut" process. A delicious coffee not a tasteless substitute.

and stated that he would still continue him in the office as deputy despite their protests.

The new peat works are almost ready for the manufacture of fuel. The machinery was started a few days ago and except for some minor parts worked satisfactorily. A few pieces of the peat fuel was made into brick form and placed in the dry shed. The manager stated that within a few days he would be turning out the manufactured article at the rate of about 30 tons per day. This will add one more to the list of industries for Ilwaco and carry with it a nice pay roll at the end of each month.

A large number of Ilwacoites attended the Regatta held at Astoria last week and all report it one of the best ever held in that city. The amusements were good but the most enjoyable place some of them found was the country dance. It pleased them to hear the old familiar words "Sashay" and "Shake Yo Feet", so much so, that they did not come home 'til morning.

Daniel Markham, Joe Markham, Frank Embree and several others left the latter part of last week for Shoalwater Bay where they will engage in full fishing. We understand they have all secured hunters' licenses for the season and no doubt some of the citizens of Ilwaco will be feasting on wild game ere long.

R. H. Herrold returned to Ilwaco, the first of the week from over on the bay. He has salmon poison in the right hand and is here for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tubbi and children left the latter part of last week for Portland where they will spend a few days and then proceed to some point in Idaho, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Wm. Gregory who has been confined to her bed for some time with a complication of troubles was taken to the hospital in Astoria Monday for treatment.

Mr. McElroy, who during the summer months was employed by the Ilwaco Railroad Company as train despatcher, left Monday for Spokane, Wash.

Miss Belle and Alice Davis, of Seaside, Oregon, were guests of Miss Hannah Hughes the latter part of last week. They returned home Monday.

Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Miss Bess Kelly, Mrs. Matt Kelly and son, left Tuesday, for their home in Portland after almost a month's outing at Long Beach.

Mrs. Steve Miller, Miss Maude Chilcoat and Miss Lillian Jolliffe, were in Ilwaco Monday, visiting with Mrs. James L. Vaughn.

Mrs. J. W. Howerton, of Portland, and Mrs. Emma Hoffman, of South Bend, are visiting relatives in Ilwaco, at present.

Astor Seaborg, Jr., returned Saturday from a month's visit to Lebanon, Wash., where he has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Sol Markham.

Miss Winnie Hansen, of Portland, is a guest of her friend, Mrs. Bartholemew, for a few days, at the Ilwaco Life-Saving Station.

Miss Edith Whitcomb and Miss Lida Saarla, spent Saturday in Astoria, returning the following morning. They report a splendid time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Seaborg returned Monday from Astoria where they spent Sunday.

Miss Ruth Richardson was a guest of Miss Nellie Williams over Sunday.

Go Fun, Chinese foreman in the Ilwaco cannery, and family, returned Monday from a few days' leave of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graham and children, left Monday for Edmunds, Wash., to spend the winter.

Mrs. Charles Eckert and daughter, Frances, were visitors to Ilwaco Sunday.

Miss Mabel Rogers, left Monday for Portland where she will attend school this winter.

Mrs. Fred Brown returned Tuesday from Astoria.

Bert Cory is visiting with his friend Nelson Simmons for a few days.

NEW CLERK APPOINTED FOR SCHOOL BOARD

MR. CLARK RESIGNS AND W. A. SHERMAN IS APPOINTED BY BOARD IN HIS STEAD

Superintendent A. L. Clark of the Astoria public schools last night tendered his resignation as clerk of the school board because of the fact that he is already overlaid with work in connection with the superintendency of the schools alone. The resignation was accepted and W. A. Sherman, county treasurer, was appointed clerk in Mr. Clark's stead. Year by year the work in relation to the schools keeps growing larger and more diverse, and it is such that it occupies all the energies and attention of the superintendent.

At the board's regular meeting last night the action of the committee on teachers in recommending the appointment of the following was acted upon and approved: Miss Anne Lewis, Miss Helma Hukari, Miss Hilda Fridberg, Miss Carrie Barnes, Miss Mary Settem, Miss Emma Knutson. The resignation of Mrs. Doris Bailey was accepted, and also of Miss Esther Larson, who resigns for the purpose of attending normal school.

The committee on supplies reported that all the desks have been cleaned and they now look like new. A communication was received from the Pacific States Telephone Company stating that the company could no longer grant a free phone for the clerk's office. The janitors are to start on September 7 to clean the buildings and all the rooms preparatory to the opening of the schools. The following bills were ordered paid: Frederickson Bros., $434.15; Allen Wall Paper & Paint Co., $33.30; Foard & Stokes Hardware Co., $19.20; W. F. Jones, salary to August 21, $50; W. F. Jones, filing saws, $1.50; O. W. Whitman, $4; Odd Fellows' Building & Land Assn., $10; Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., $3; A. L. Clark, $150; American Surety Co., $40; C. H. Spencer, $433.50; Axel Johanson, $267.45.

All of the members of the board were present last night. Two bills, one by the Clatsop Mill Company, and the other by the Prael-Eigner Company, were held pending a report from the committee.

FLOUR MILL PROJECT IS BRUITED HERE

NEW YORK PEOPLE AND MONEY BEHIND PROPOSITION—SITE ONLY, ASKED FOR.

A certain party, whose name is not disposed, but who is unquestionably representing New York people and capital, is in the city, in conference with the Chamber of Commerce authorities and other leading business men, with a view to the erection of a 1000-barrel-a-day flour mill in this city, or neighborhood, and a wheat elevator to accompany the enterprise; the only desideratum being that the site shall be given outright to the projectors, who, it is said, are unqualifiedly able and willing to make the venture, for which there is abundant money.

This is startlingly good news for Astoria; and there are those who have the sites and who, it is believed, will jump at the chance of securing such a splendid plant as an ally and inducement for the improving and selling of their contiguous holdings; and the hope is abroad along with the rumor, that no time will be lost in making this supreme advantage.

This is the second time that a tangible offer of the sort has been made here; the other hailing from A. B. Hammond and his associates some four years ago, at which time T. B. Wilcox, of Portland, did some clever business legerdemain and the plan was passed up here and is now flourishing over on Puget Sound.

It is strictly up to Astoria to see that no such circumlocution is permitted in the instance at hand. Take your idle lands in your hand and give them to John H. Whyte, the capable secretary of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce, for instant and generous use in this splendid instant.

POLICE CHIEF GAMMAL
FILES RESIGNATION

WILL BE ACTED UPON BY POLICE COMMISSION—WILL ENTER COMMERCIAL LIFE.

Police Chief Charles Gammal, of this city, has filed his resignation as such officer, with the Astoria police commission, the document reaching that department yesterday. The commissioners asked the Chief to await the disposal of the matter until the board, in full membership, could be gotten together, and he acquiesced.

Chief Gammal assigns as a principal reason for leaving the service, that he can make better money by pursuing certain commercial interests in which he is interested. The resignation will be acted upon very shortly, probably as soon as the new third member is appointed.

All of which goes to prove that the Astorian was not so far out, a few weeks ago, when it published upon the declaration of Chief Gammal, a flat denial of the very circumstances now and here set forth as having transpired.

The Astorian, along with plenty more, friends of Mr. Gammal, wishes him success and prosperity in his new field and relations in the business world.

The slashing of prices in the cream of High Grade Pianos is certainly moving things at a lively clip at Eilers Piano House, 422-424 Commercial street, near Tenth street, judging from the activity of the Sherman Transfer Company's wagons around the Eilers store.

people can accomplish such wonderful success at home and exert such influences abroad cannot be too thoroughly studied or too carefully guarded. Practically all the greatest publicists agree that the most vital feature of the general plan of our government is found in the distribution of its power among three separate, independent and co-ordinate departments.

"It is fundamental that neither shall encroach upon the other. The legislative shall not without Constitutional authority, take from, or add to the powers of the judiciary, nor shall the judiciary annul or embarrass the lawfully enacted will of the legislative. Working in harmony as their official duties require, the result is as near perfection as human imperfection will allow.

"We can only speculate as to the disappointing consequences that would ensue if they should work at cross purposes. For the credit of these two departments, neither has ever wilfully infringed upon or denied the powers of the other. Through all the years that have passed they have been so true to the purpose of their creation that they have carefully respected and jealously guarded each the rights of the other.

"But worse than legislative and judicial discord would be an invasion of either of the other departments by the executive. All the powers of that department are consolidated in a single individual. He is the commander-in-chief of the army and the navy. He has in his own hands all the tremendous power of public patronage. He not only has under his control, and subject to his will, so far as their tenure is concerned, thousands of office holders, but he has even more immediately under his command a constantly increasing army of more, at the present time, than 3000 special agents, inspectors and secret service men whose highest law is his bidding.

"Under a bold, aggressive, unscrupulous and designing executive this power of appointment of these armies of appointees could so be exercised and directed as to destroy the independence and impair the usefulness and efficiency of both the other departments.

"Such an abuse of power would be a violation of the Constitution which if long acquiesced in might eventually work its overthrow.

"Such practices are of such serious character that they are not likely to occur, but nevertheless we should be ever watchful to rebuke them when they do occur, lest in them we find our undoing. Open and avowed enemies are not always the most dangerous.

"They are frequently subtle influ-

OLD MAN DIES ALONE AND IN POVERTY

"OLD VAN'S" FULL NAME NOT EVEN KNOWN, THOUGH HERE FOR 30 YEARS.

After living in and around Astoria for nearly 30 years "Old Van" was found dead in his bed at 252 Astor street last night, and yet among all those who heard of his death last night there was none who could tell his first name.

The old man died alone, in poverty, almost friendless, with no relatives or children as far as is known. His last name is Vanderberg. He used to be a cook, mostly in the camps, and for the past year or two had lived in the room where he died, which was given to him by Henry Vahlsing, the cigar dealer, out of compassion for the old man. Mr. Vahlsing had known him in the days when he used to cook and gladly permitted the old man the use of the room.

Last night Coroner Gilbaugh made an effort to find out something definite in regard to the dead man but it was not possible to ascertain much of value, though it is probable that today there will be some who can volunteer some information. It was stated that Attorney J. H. Smith had recently endeavored to secure a pension for "Van," but Mr. Smith stated to The Astorian last night that this is a mistake and that he knew nothing of him. It is presumed, however, that he had been a soldier in the Civil War. The cause of death is not known, but there were indications in the room that he had been taken sick and had tried to help himself. He was not accustomed to drink much, it is said, but on Saturday he had taken at least one or two drinks. Coroner Gilbaugh will decide today whether an inquest will be necessary. "Old Van" was a familiar figure around the streets, and many will recall him as a rather cleanly old man with long flowing white hair that fell upon his shoulders. He was over 70 years of age. The last seen of him was on Saturday night, and when he failed to appear in his customary haunts, his absence was observed and Mr. Vahlsing made an investigation. Nothing was found in his room that revealed his identity.

ences and undermine and thwart human endeavor before they are recognized. This is particularly true in governmental expenditure.

"All the teachings of history proclaim that there is no safety except where there is eternal vigilance. If there should come necessity for changes in our organized law let us make them in accordance with its provisions, having the requisite patience and patriotism therefor and ever remembering and believing that what Washington and his associates framed, and Lincoln and his associates with the help of the grand old Union army, perfected, is good enough for you and me, and for all who are coming after us."

ROBBER NAMED.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—Game Warden W. B. Morgan yesterday received a telegram from United States Game Warden T. S. Palmer that the bandit who recently held up 12 stages in Yellowstone park is believed to be William Binkley, who escaped from the Yellowstone Park jail in November. He had been given a three and a half year sentence for shooting elk in the park. Binkley was arrested by Morgan in Los Angeles and the man was convicted on evidence secured through the efforts of the warden. It is considered possible that Binkley is headed for Los Angeles and Warden Morgan and other officers will be on the watch for him from this time on.

AFTER ARMY OFFICER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—It is reported at the Presidio here that new charges of discrepancies in his accounts will be placed against Captain Solomon Avery, coast artillery, U. S. A., now on trial before a court martial as a result of alleged irregularities in his accounts as treasurer of the officers' club. The new complications arise out of his handling of the company funds when he was in command of the 10th Company, coast artillery, and it is stated Lieutenant J. Carpenter took over this duty.

The steamer Homer is due in from San Francisco at almost any hour today bound for Portland.
